Everything's so much simpler.

Heatline is just a call away

Leading domestic heating products manufacturer Heatline is continuing to make 'Everything so much simpler' for its customers by changing its telephone numbers, in a bid to make them more memorable and user-friendly.

The telephone numbers now use the local dialling code – 01234 – which not only makes the calls cheaper for the customers, but is also easier to use and remember.

To contact a member of our dedicated team, please call one of the following:

01234 363 363 – Sales Office

Boilers

01234 329 100 – Boiler Technical

01234 329 101 – Boiler Service

01234 329 102 – Boiler Fax

01234 329 103 – Boiler Spares

The old 0870 numbers will continue to operate alongside the new contact numbers for a short period until customers become accustomed to the new system, but will eventually be disconnected.

Reliable, affordable, and efficient, Heatline is fast becoming one of the leading European manufacturers of heating equipment in the UK - supplying boilers, radiators and heated towel rails to more than 300 stockists nationwide.

With over 50 years of experience in the industry, Heatline prides itself on its reputation for cost effective equipment that is easy to install and to maintain, together with comprehensive technical and product aftersales support.
